Saving Water

As we all know, water is important to us all. People can't live without water. Plants and animals will die if there is no water in the world. But there are still some people wasting water. For example, some students often forget to turn off the taps; some people take showers for a long time. Then what should we do to save water? First, we should turn off the taps after we use it. Second, we'd better recycle and reuse the water. Third, we should take a bath instead of having a shower.
